Simplify your communications with Evolve IP's UC-One Connect

UC-One helps teams work easy with full-featured, cloud calling, messaging, meetings, and team collaboration all in one app. It includes full HD voice and video conferencing, messaging, screen sharing, and file sharing in an easy-to-use cloud app that integrates with your other cloud business apps

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions

To make decisions quickly with the right people, no matter where they are, your employees need anywhere, any device real-time access to people and information.

A simple search finds people quickly in your contacts and directories and presence lets you know if they're available for a call, chat, or meeting.

When you're calling, meeting, or chatting with coworkers, UC-One finds all the content you have in common, to help you make decisions on time and move work forward.

Because UC-One is in the cloud, everything is accessible in an instant.

Cloud Calling

If your business relies on predictable, reliable telephone calls, UC-One is for you.

UC-One provides the highest quality carrier grade capabilities to keep your employees connected and productive from any device – laptop, tablet, or smartphone.

UC-One is your phone system in the cloud:

- » Make and receive your business calls on any device you choose
- » Have your business calls dial a group of team members all at once or in sequence, until someone answers the call
- » Have an auto-attendant route all your business calls
- » Move a call in progress from your laptop to your smartphone and vice versa
- » Access corporate directories so you can easily find company experts

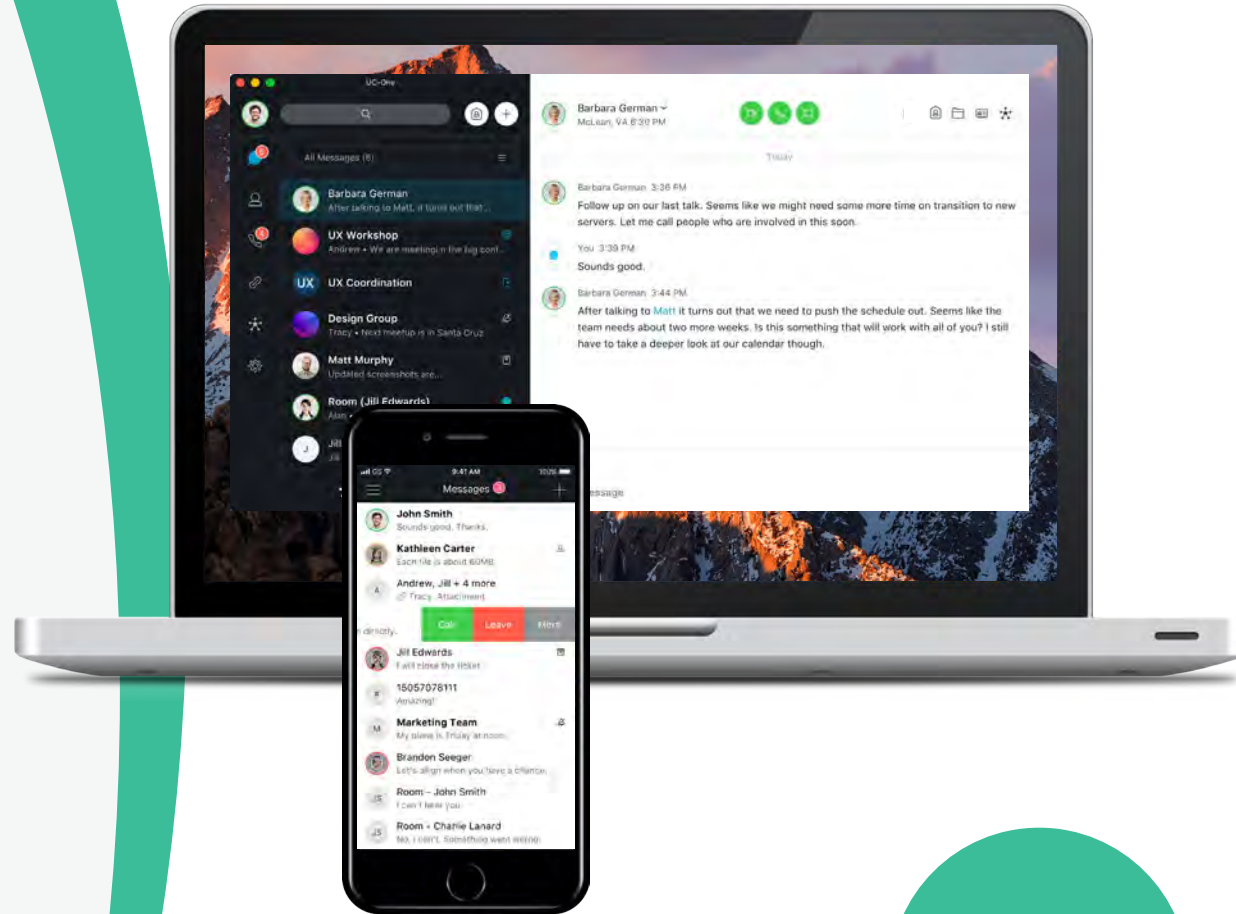

- » One number
- » Wi-Fi calling
- » HD video
- » Presence
- » Transfer, hold, hunt
- » Any device
- » Easy access to directories

Messaging

UC-One is ideal for your direct and group chatting, so you can have quick and engaging communications with your co-workers.

Exchange messages in real-time to minimize email overload. Instantly share files with a simple drag and drop. With universal search find what you need by searching across all of your people, messages and spaces. Everything is always available, so you never lose track of your chats and everything is safely archived.

Team Collaboration

Introducing spaces in UC-One

Spaces give you a persistent, dedicated work space for your team's communications. Set up spaces around the people and projects that are aligned with your work, such as the team you work on, a presentation, or a product launch.

Call, message, meet, share files, or share your screen directly from within a space. Always-on persistence means your work is instantly saved and searchable, allowing you and your team to worry less about organizing and more about getting things done. Access everything from your mobile device to stay on track, even when you're away.

- » Project spaces
- » Group messaging
- » File sharing
- » Smart notifications

Content in common

UC-One keeps everything in one place – your files, calls, messages, and colleagues.

We've uniquely pre-integrated UC-One with the most popular business applications used by companies today, giving you instant access to context and important information while you're communicating.

Content you share in common with coworkers or teams, such as emails, documents, calendar meetings, and more, is available at your fingertips, while you're collaborating.

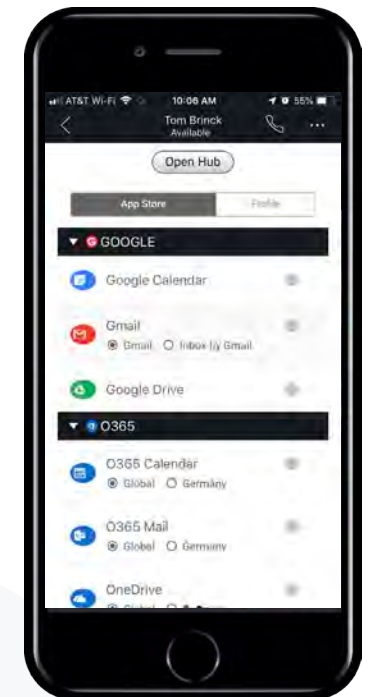

You can also perform quick actions in email, a calendar, storage drives, and more from within UC-One. No need to waste time switching apps.
